

THE TRIBUNE.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 6, 1841.

For an interesting Letter from the Mediterranean, see First Page.

For "Jottings down in Town," and an extract from "Charles O'Malley," see First Page.

All notices of Public Meetings, Religious, Political, &c. of Services to be delivered by Clergymen visiting our City, &c. will be continued in the Tribune (if not exceeding six lines) for 25 cents an insertion.

By referring to the letter from Washington it will be seen that the House of Representatives have determined to close the debate on the Fiscal Bank Bill to-day, at 12 o'clock. The bill will undoubtedly pass the House this week, in nearly the shape in which it came from the Senate.

MR. ROOSEVELT AND THE GENERAL BANKRUPT LAW.—We believe the statements made in the following letter were intended to be given to the public, and we have thought best to give them in the language of the writer:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, Aug. 3, 1841.

DEAR SIR—I have just received a copy of your paper of yesterday, in which I am represented as opposed to the Bankrupt Law, and endeavoring to defeat its passage. The fact is precisely the reverse, and I wish, therefore, you would correct the misapprehension. My opinion has been, for years, and has been freely expressed, that inasmuch as the States had delegated the power of establishing uniform laws on the subject of Bankruptcy to the General Government, it was the duty of that Government to exercise the power and fulfill the trust. The trust was fulfilled, for a time, in 1800; and it is to be deeply regretted that the Act, passed at that early date, instead of being repealed, as it was in 1803, had not been amended and preserved as one of the most valuable features in the National Code.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

THOS. McCLINTOCK, Esq. JAMES J. ROOSEVELT.

Now, while sincerely desirous to do justice to the motives and the conduct of our political opponents, we are compelled to judge some of them by their acts rather than their professions, when a marked discrepancy between them is manifest. That such is the case in this instance, let facts establish.

Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the Judiciary Committee, which reported a Bankrupt bill with a resolution declaring it inexpedient to act upon the subject at this Session. The Chairman (Mr. Barnard) remarked that he and Mr. Brown of Tenn. (not James J. Roosevelt) did not concur in this fatal resolution, and, on motion, it was instantly laid on the table, by a vote of 118 to 81—JAMES J. ROOSEVELT and all his Loco-Foco colleagues in the Committee voting against laying the Resolution on the table, or in favor of giving the subject the go-by till next Session. (See Yeas and Nays in The Tribune of the 23d.)

If Mr. Roosevelt considered it important that the Bank, Tariff, Public Land and Loan bills should be pressed forward as fast as possible, very well; and if he had only voted to put these through first, we could have made all due allowances. But, in reporting and voting against considering the subject at all this Session, he voted contrary to the wishes of his constituents, and manifested an unmistakable hostility to the measure. We assure him that this matter is understood here; and when a man avows that he is opposed to passing a Bankrupt Law at this Session, he does not need to unmask farther. If a Bankrupt Law was ever proper or needed, it is so now; and he who opposes its passage at this Session will oppose it evermore if he can do it without odium.

An enthusiastic Meeting of the citizens of Brooklyn opposed to the present system of State Prison labor was held on Wednesday evening—Wm. H. PECK in the Chair, G. W. STEWELL Secretary. Addresses were made by Messrs. RIDDLE, WYDELL, CHURCH and TRAKADWELL; and resolutions, strongly expressive of the sentiments of the meeting, were adopted. CHARLES RIDDLE, Esq. presented to the meeting an Address to the Mechanics of the State of New York, which was warmly commended and universally approved. Delegates were appointed to attend the State Convention of Mechanics to be held at Albany on the 1st of September next.

The Albany Argus endorses an assertion of the Chicago Democrat that Illinois will only receive $37,000 per annum from the Land Distribution, which would afford her no essential relief. But this is grossly untrue. Suppose the receipts from Land Sales per annum shall be $3,600,000, of which $500,000 are for Lands in Illinois. That State, under the Land bill, would first receive $50,000 as ten per cent. on the Lands sold within her own limits, and $75,000 as her share of the net proceeds—in all, $125,000. Is that nothing? But what says the Argus to New-York's receiving about $400,000 per annum from that same Distribution? Is that no object? What say the "Forty-Million" panic-makers to this efficient antidote to "State Bankruptcy" and "grinding taxation?"

The terrible Murder of Miss Rogers excites daily a deeper and wider interest in our city. Well may it do so. A young woman leaves her home on Sunday morning, and is unheard of till the following Thursday, when she is found horribly outraged and murdered at Hoboken. A week has since passed, and no clue to the perpetrator of the awful crime is yet found. Our police are now on the alert, but we fear too late. What has the Mayor been doing? We hear that he awaits the offer of a reward from the Governor of New-Jersey before offering one himself. This is wrong. The criminal, probably, no more than the victim, belonged to New-Jersey; the offense strikes at the safety and peace of the citizens of New-York. Who saw Miss Rogers at Hoboken on Sunday week? Will any one who did, and hesitates to go before the Police, please address a note stating the facts to this office?

Gov. DOTY.—A large meeting of the Whigs was recently held at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, in relation to Governor Doty, whose appointment by the President is highly satisfactory to the Whigs of that Territory. No man could have been selected who is better qualified to fill the station. The Opposition, however, with a few disaffected Whigs, are doing all they can to vilify his character, and destroy his influence at home and his reputation abroad.

MORE DEFALCATIONS.—Letters from New-Orleans say that the sudden death of one of the Tellers in the Canal Bank had caused an investigation into his accounts, which, as far as the examination had proceeded, had disclosed a deficit of over $80,000.

Died, in Brooklyn, on Monday, August 2d, Miss LUCY HOOPER, aged 25 years.

Silence is the fitting language of grief; yet we cannot suffer our rarely-gifted friend to sink into the grave without some slight, sad tribute of affection and gratitude. For several years past, Miss Hooper has been an infrequent but most efficient contributor to the periodical literature of our country, and might have achieved a proud rank among the female writers of the land had she not listened rather to the dictates of feminine diffidence than the promptings of ambition. Her Poetry, as a whole, is surpassed by that of very few living women; and in deed, in its portrayals of the tender and better affections of our nature, we know not who lives that could excel it. Truth, Passion, Gentleness, and the heart's undying Devotion, have rarely found a loftier, purer minstrelsy than in her writings. We trust those writings will not be suffered to perish, but be promptly collected and fitly presented to the public.

Miss Hooper stood among the foremost of a circle of free-will contributors to the original columns of The New-Yorker, to whom we are deeply indebted for whatever of public regard this paper has acquired. Death had already thinned that little band, yet this last arrow has pierced more deeply than any preceding. It comes, too, with the suddenness as well as the stunning force of the thunderbolt. Living within the neighborhood almost of the deceased, we had not heard of her illness, even, till we learned that her spirit had departed! (New-Yorker.

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF RED-JACKET, OR SA-GO-YE-WAT-HAI; Being the Sequel to the History of the Six Nations. By WILLIAM L. BRADEN. 1 vol. 8vo. pp. 484. Wiley & Putnam.

Col. Stone apparently rises to the honorable post of historian to the fading Aboriginal race, and is by patient, devoted investigation qualifying himself more and more for the faithful discharge of its duties. Bringing to the task a vast fund of historical and general information, his pages are always interesting and instructive even when they fail to be pertinent to the subject indicated in the title; for indeed we have sometimes thought they might without injury have been entitled general Historical Collections, rather than local narratives or individual biographies. But is it not better thus? Red-Jacket—Brant—what can they be to the next or even the rising generation but natural though favorable specimens of the Race we have displaced, destroyed, or driven far toward the setting sun? It is only as forming an important part of Aboriginal history that it is worth while to read an octavo biography of either at all. If only as collections of important documents touching the settlement and early history of our Country, these works possess a substantial interest; while to the casual reader the fund of interesting anecdote and exciting adventure must impart to them a charm equal to that of the wildest romances.

Red-Jacket, it is known, owed his power and his celebrity in great degree to his ability as an orator—for as a warrior he was not distinguished. Many specimens of his eloquence are interspersed through the volume before us, and we think they will sustain but hardly elevate his reputation.

The work is admirably illustrated and beautifully printed.

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY.—The annual Commencement of this institution took place on Tuesday, at Middletown, Conn. President BANGS delivered his Inaugural Address in the morning, and is now fully inducted into office as the successor of the lamented Dr. Fisk. The exercises are spoken of by those present as evincing a very high order of intellectual culture on the part of the speakers. The degree of A. B. was conferred upon 31 young gentlemen composing the graduating class.

On the preceding evening an Oration was delivered before the Literary Societies by Rev. JOHN NEWLAND MAFFITT, which, if we are to believe the representations of the letter-writers, was a production of great brilliancy and eloquence.

The Commencement at Dartmouth College took place last week, when the Rev. Wm. COGSWELL, D. D. was inaugurated as Professor of History and National Education. Professor Lewis of New-York University delivered the Address before the Phi Beta Kappa Society; Rev. Dr. Cox, of Brooklyn, before the Theological Society; and Rev. Mr. Condit, of Portland, before two Literary Societies. The degree of A. B. was conferred on seventy-eight individuals, and of A. M. in course on eight. The degree of M. D. was conferred on two persons; the honorary degree of M. D. on Minch Eldridge; and the degree of L. L. D. was conferred on Frederick Hall, of Washington, D. C. and Jared Sparks, Professor of History in Harvard University.

The Washington Temperance Society of our City has, after mature deliberation, embarked zealously in the enterprise of establishing a HOUSE OF REFUGE FOR DRUNKARDS, wherein all who are suffering from the ravages of that deadly malady, Intemperance, and are willing to escape from its thralldom, may comfortably remain until their cure is perfected. The idea is a noble one, and we trust it will be warmly seconded by our philanthropic citizens. It is now rendered certain that Drunkenness may be cured, for it has been in hundreds of instances. Why should not the healing be as universal as the disease? Friends of suffering Humanity! one year of zealous, enlightened, self-sacrificing effort, will nearly exterminate the desolating monster from the land! Who will hold back, when the humblest effort is so abundantly blessed?

A friend from HUDSON assures us that the triumph of Temperance in that City and vicinity surpass all description. Thirteen hundred persons (out of a population of perhaps three thousand above ten years of age) have taken the Pledge, including half the hard drinkers in the place. Meetings are held almost daily, and the good work still goes on with unabated energy.

In answer to the inquiry of "One of Many," in relation to the next meeting of Clerks, we need only state that it will not take place on Monday evening. The subject is in the hands of an efficient Committee, who will call a public meeting in due season.

EDWIN BRYANT, Esq., for many years Editor of the Lexington (Ky.) Intelligencer, has received the appointment of Special Agent for the Post-Office Department in Tennessee.

DEATHS IN THE ARMY.—The St. Augustine News announces the death of Lt. Henry Wardell, of the 8th Infantry, on the 23d ult., at Key Biscayne; and also of Dr. Noyes, at the former place.

The Germantown Telegraph says: "The William Brown passengers for Germantown, six females, arriving in this place on Friday last, in good health, and are now living a short distance from our office, happy that they have at last reached a place of safety, after all their perils and hairbreadth escapes."

It is stated that Greenough's Statue of Washington, which has arrived at the Seat of the General Government, is of such dimensions as to render necessary the removal of a portion of the wall of the Capitol.

The Boston and Portland Railroad is now in operation as far as New-Market, N. H., a distance of fifty-seven miles from Boston. The cars leave Boston at 7 A. M. and arrive at New-Market at half-past 9 o'clock.

Judge Halliburton, the author of "Sam Slick," was recently promoted from the bench of the Common Pleas, to that of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia.

On Wednesday morning, the store of Mr. Baell, at Middle Haddam, Conn., with its contents, including the letters of the Post-Office, was totally destroyed by fire.

Judge Butler, of Charleston, S. C., decided on Saturday last that the banks had not incurred a forfeiture of charter by the non-acceptance of the act of the last Legislature.

David Maish, Esq., of York, Pa., one of the Commissioners of the County, fell from his chair on Sunday morning last, and suddenly expired.

A letter from Boston states that when the line of railroad from that City to Albany is completed, passengers will be conveyed the whole distance in four hours.

SEIT AGAINST MR. BIDDLE.—On Tuesday, the President, Directors and Company of the Bank of the United States of Pennsylvania, through their Counsel, Messrs. Wm. Rawle, T. J. Wharton and F. W. Hubbel, in their suit against Mr. Biddle, filed in the District Court a declaration setting forth the damages sustained by that Institution to the amount of $1,000,000, and also entered a rule upon Mr. Biddle to plead within eight days, or judgement. We understand Messrs. Randall, Dallas and Meredith are the counsel engaged by Mr. Biddle. [Phil. Amer. Sentinel.

MORE "PATRIOTISM."—A six-pounder belonging to the State was stolen from the public Arsenal at Auburn one night last week. A gentleman residing near the Arsenal states that late at night he saw eight or ten men forcing the doors of the building, and also saw them take away the gun. The wheel-tracks were followed several miles, when they were lost sight of, and no information has since been obtained relative to the piece. The Commissary General, Adoniram Chandler, Esq., who returned to this city from Auburn yesterday, has issued a Proclamation, offering a reward of twenty-five dollars for the recovery of the gun, and the same for the arrest of those concerned in the misdemeanor.

Three other pieces of ordnance are missing, viz: one belonging to a volunteer artillery company in Auburn, one belonging to an artillery company in the town of Cato, and another from the town of Scipio. We have reports that others have been taken, but nothing definite beyond the foregoing.

Of course, there are various rumors in circulation respecting the probable disposition to be made of the stolen property, but as yet it is difficult to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion. It is not improbable, however, that some of the unquiet spirits of the frontier are preparing for another "patriotic movement" against Canada.

COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit twenty dollar notes on the Union Bank of this city are said to be in circulation in Rochester. Counterfeit ten dollar notes, with red backs, on the Commercial Bank at Rochester, have made their appearance. The names of H. Ely, President, and Thos. H. Rochester, Cashier, are engraved. The word "No" which is at the right of the vignette on the genuine notes, is omitted on the counterfeits. The engraving is miserably executed. The Bank is calling in its old bills, and issuing new ones without red backs.

A FEMALE SAILOR.—The "Algonquin," which arrived at Philadelphia from Liverpool on Wednesday morning, had on board a young girl about 16 years of age, who shipped as a seaman. She served in that capacity some days before her sex was discovered, when she was required to resume the costume of her sex.

A meeting of the survivors of the battle of North Point was held in Baltimore on Monday night last, at which they resolved to form themselves into an association, after the form of the "Cincinnati Society," and to hold an annual celebration of the anniversary of the battle.

MORE PROSECUTIONS FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.—The prosecutions brought by Mr. Isaac J. Wood, against those who caused his arrest and imprisonment on charges of false pretence, appear to be almost endless. Yesterday, through his counsel, A. D. Russell, Esq., Mr. Wood brought suits against Mr. Silas F. Ames, of the firm of Messrs. Thorndyke, Ames & Co. 54 Front-st., for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment, and Mr. Ames was held to bail by Judge Ulshesler in $5,000, which he gave, and was discharged.

ARREST ON SUSPICION OF MURDER.—Yesterday a young man, a seaman attached to one of our National vessels, was taken before Justice Parker of the Police for examination touching his participation in or knowledge of the murder of Miss Mary Cecilia Rogers. He was supposed to be the person whom two gentlemen saw walking with Miss Rogers on Sunday afternoon or evening; but although he was well acquainted with the unfortunate young lady, the two gentlemen, on seeing him, said at once that he was not the man. After long and critical interrogatories by the Magistrate, in which nothing to implicate him was elicited—he was discharged. Mystery, therefore, still broods over this dark tragedy, though some of the Police Officers are constantly on the alert to find out and arrest the murderer. It is stated that the Governor of New-Jersey is about to offer a reward for the discovery and arrest of the authors of the bloody deed.

Reported for the New-York Tribune.

COURT OF SESSIONS, August 5.—Before Judges Lynch and Noah. Robert Moffat was tried for an assault and battery on John H. Smith of the corner of Suffolk and Houston-streets, on the 14th of June last. Prisoner and another man went to the back of a shop of the corner of Church and Broadway, where the other man, who was the father of the plaintiff, was ordered out, seized the old gentleman, and was about to injure him, when complainant interfered, rescued his father and threw the fellow down. Prisoner then struck complainant twice on the head with a large iron pin, injuring him severely. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and the Court sentenced him to the City Prison for 10 days.

William Lyman, mulatto, was tried for obtaining 12 pounds of loaf sugar, worth $1 50, by false pretences from Richard Teasdale, of No. 34 Reade-street. He represented that he was sent by Mrs. James Douglas, of No. 119 Church-street, to buy sugar, but that the sugar there was not the sugar he wanted. He was pursued by Chapel-street, caught and the sugar taken from him. The false pretence was not such as the law recognizes as such, and the jury, under the charge of the Court, found the prisoner not guilty.

The same prisoner was then tried for another false pretence in obtaining two pounds of tea worth $3 50 cents from William Smith, of the corner of Church and Barclay-streets, on the 3d of July last. He represented that he was sent for the tea by Mrs. Jones, and produced a forged order, which he carried into the store of Mr. Adams, corner of Church and Barclay-streets, and got the clerk to write on it the words, "For Mrs. Jones," concealing the other part of the order. Mr. Smith, having known the prisoner for several years as a waiter, was thus deceived, and suffered him to take the tea away. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and the Court sentenced him to the Penitentiary for six months.

Zachariah Reed, colored man, was tried for a grand larceny in stealing $50 in bills from George Taylor, of Whitford, Va., on the 28th June last. By the great score of larceny, the prisoner and a colored man named Nuan, and Patrick Donahue, a white man, met the complainant, a stranger, in Greenwich-street and wished him to change some money, and finally deceived him into the mouth of an alley in Courtland-street, where they induced him to show his money. Donahue, taking the money out of the hands of Taylor, handed it to one of the blacks, who ran off with it and the two blacks and Donahue escaped. An attempt was made on the part of the defence to prove an alibi of the prisoner, which was sworn to by two colored girls, but they were directly contradicted by officer Welch, who deposed that he saw and spoke to the prisoner at the time he was said to have been absent. The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was remanded for sentence.

Henry E. Magnus, a German, with one arm, was tried for forgery in the 2d degree in passing a $3 counterfeited bill of the Farmers' Bank of the City of Troy on Philip A. Minchin, of 3rd Pearl-street, on the 23d of July last. It was proved that he passed the bill, and that it was a counterfeit. He also passed a similar bill to Henry S. Cook, refectory keeper, of No. 110 Chapel-street, on the 19th of July, getting $2 as good money and a note for retreating for the other dollar. Before the trial terminated the Court adjourned.

Mary Ann Johnson, under 10 years of age, pleaded guilty to an indictment for petit larceny, and stealing a quantity of clothing worth $25 from the wife of Edwin Mills of Hempstead, L. I. Plea received by the Court, who committed the prisoner to the House of Refuge.

Charles Brown, a black, pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny, stealing a $400 bill from Rufus Rowe, No. 74 Fulton Market, on the 12th of July. The Court received the plea, and sentenced the prisoner to the State Prison for two years.

SPECIAL SESSIONS, August 5th.—Before Judge Lynch and Aldermen Benson and Williams.

Samuel Brown, colored boy, was tried for stealing four silver spoons worth $5 from Samuel S. Brown, guilty, and sent to the House of Refuge. James Hagan, assault and battery on Elizabeth Smith, of No. 119 Church-street, for the other dollar. The prisoner on Pichele Road: guilty—City Prison 5 days. Henry Ryan, a boy, stealing $5 in bills from John Daniels: guilty—sent to the House of Refuge. Robert Smith, stealing smoothing-iron and tin kettle from James Lewer: guilty—City Prison 30 days. Edward Hagan, stealing $175 in coin from Robert Nixon: guilty. The prisoner and another were suspended and he discharged. Ellen Inyard, stealing a watch, breast-pin and $2 in money from John C. Van Houten: acquitted. Moses Denickson alias Butler, colored: stealing clothing worth $10 from Peter Davis: guilty—City Prison 30 days. Penitentiary 3 months.

Rose Ann Nesbit, stealing a bonnet and frock from Gottlieb Niemann: guilty—Penitentiary 60 days.

Discharge.—Ellen Dixon and Mary Carter, charged with petit larceny, and Bernard Miller, with assault and battery, were severally discharged for want of evidence.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT, August 5.—Before Judge Betts.

Joshua A. Davis and John Hanlin were tried for grand larceny, in stealing plate, keyrings, boots, shoes, &c. worth $600, being part of the cargo of brig Essex, while on her passage from this port to Savannah in the month of June last. The prisoners were arrested on board the vessel. Davis confessed to one of the crew that he had robbed the vessel of silver spoons, keyrings, and other articles, and in his confession implicated Hanlin the other prisoner, and another seaman named Hobby, and saying that his share of the plunder came to between $200 and $300. Part of the property was found concealed in a box in a house over the fore hatch, and was discovered after the vessel arrived at quarantine harbor. There was no testimony to implicate Hanlin, and he was acquitted and used as a witness for the defence. The weight of proof going on the high seas, and very was committed at Savannah in the month of June last, and the Court was not in jurisdiction of the case, but that, if guilty, they were amenable to the laws of Georgia. Messrs. Nash and Price, of Counsel for the defence, pressed this point before the Court, who charged that if the theft were committed in Savannah, the jury must acquit the prisoners; and they were acquitted accordingly.

POLICE OFFICE.—Depositing a Beer Vender.—A boy named John Benton went yesterday morning to the root beer stand of A. Perry, opposite the New Era office in Nassau-st., and stole $3 in silver and copper coin, with which he scamped off. Mr. Perry, however, was at his heels, and arrested and conducted the young thief to the Police Office, where he recovered his money, and had the boy sent to prison.

Brutal Assault and Battery.—On Wednesday night a man named Abraham Peters conducted in a most improper and disgusting manner in the Chatham Theatre, and when officer Gilchrist endeavored to arrest him, he made a most brutal and indecent assault upon the officer, and also tore his clothes; but he was secured and lodged in the watchhouse, and yesterday sent to prison.

Another Thimble-rigger Caught.—Officer Sherman yesterday arrested a man named George Smith, charged with having been concerned with George West (some time since arrested) in defrauding Silas Brigham, a countryman, of $100 by inducing him to bet on the game of thimble-rig, an unlawful game, and the prisoner then going off with the money. He was caught at the corner of Orange and Chatham-st. and committed to prison to answer.

Taking Pledge for Carrying Wood.—A man named William Wood was employed on Tuesday to carry in a load of wood for Thomas Lockran of 78 Centre-st., and after he had finished the job he entered one of the rooms and stole a small linen bag containing $7, and carried it off. He was yesterday arrested and committed to prison for the offence.

Picking a Pocket.—As Mr. William Latterner of Wilmington, N. C. was standing in the auction store of Messrs. J. Haggerty & Sons, his pocket was picked by some adroit pick-pocket of his pocket-book containing $50 in bills, a certificate of deposit for $2,149 47, and a check drawn by the 7th Ward Bank on the Cape Fear Bank of Fayetteville, N. C. for $71 76—the thief escaping with his booty.

Disorder and Assault.—Richard Driscoll was very disorderly and abusive on Wednesday night, and when watchman Russ endeavored to quiet him, he assaulted the watchman, and was lodged in the watchhouse. Yesterday he was ordered to give security in $200 to be of good behavior, and in default was committed.

CORONER'S OFFICE.—The Coroner yesterday held an inquest at No. 10 West-st. on the body of Ellen Long, a native of Ireland, aged 32 years. The deceased was very intemperate, and had indulged in excessive drink for a considerable time past. Her husband left home on Wednesday morning and returned about 7 o'clock in the evening, when he found her stretched out on the floor, entirely dead. Dr. W. S. Tompkins executed a post mortem examination on the body and found the mucous coat of the stomach, also the intestines much congested, as in cases of confirmed intemperance, and from his advisory statement, the jury found a verdict of died from intemperance.

Also, at the corner of 10th avenue and 16th street, on the body of Robert Lynn, a native of Ireland, aged 31, a milkman by occupation. The deceased, in a state of apparent health, on Tuesday night at 11 o'clock retired to a hay loft in the 10th avenue, where he was wont, in warm weather, to sleep, and where he was found dead on Wednesday morning. Dr. W. S. Tompkins made a post mortem examination, and from the state of the brain, liver, heart, &c. deduced the opinion that the deceased died of congestion of the brain and lungs. Verdict accordingly.

Also, at the foot of Clarkson-st. on the body of a dead infant found in the water at the foot of said street. Verdict, still born.

Halls of Temperance.—At a meeting of the friends of Temperance, held Wednesday evening, August 4th, at the building formerly known as Masonic Hall, for the purpose of considering the propositions of Mr. Earle, the lessee, concerning the manner in which the establishment is to be conducted, JOHN TAPPEN, Esq., of Boston, was chosen President, and O. S. BARKLEY, Secretary.

The call of the meeting having been read, Mr. Tappen gave a highly interesting account of the condition of Temperance in various sections of our country and in England, and spoke in the highest terms of praise and admiration of the harmony of sentiment and warmth of enthusiasm which pervaded the late Temperance Convention at Saratoga during the whole of its sittings.

On motion of C. A. LEE, M. D., a Committee of three was appointed to draft Resolutions for the consideration of the meeting.

The Chair appointed C. A. LEE, M. D., Mr. Stewart, President of the Michigan State Temperance Society, and Hiram Barney, Esq., The Committee presented the following resolutions, which were adopted, after a free and lengthy discussion.

Resolved, That as Citizens of New-York we feel that we want the existence of some place where the minds of the youth and others may find the resources of reason and experience, relaxation from the pressure of business, free from temptation to vice and immorality.

Resolved, That this meeting having heard the statements of Mr. Earle, in relation to his plan of conducting the Halls of Temperance on a purely abstinence principle, we hereby approve of the same, and will do what lies in their power to sustain him, and call on the friends of Temperance in our City and elsewhere, to unite with us in this object.

Resolved, That as friends of Temperance, we will sustain the Local Association of this establishment, with our influence and our contributions, so long as it is conducted in accordance with the principles of strict morality, and on the plan of entire abstinence from all intoxicating drinks.

Resolved, That a Committee of gentlemen be appointed to advise with Mr. Earle in making arrangements for the opening of this Hall, with power to add to their number.

Resolved, That in consequence of the heat of the weather and the absence of a great number of our friends from the City, it be recommended to the proprietor and the Committee to postpone the opening till the month of September.

The following gentlemen were then nominated by the meeting to compose the Committee, with power to fill vacancies and to add to their number, to carry out the provisions contained in the 4th Resolution.

Rarely is a beautiful young woman seen entering a drawing-room with a black mustache, fit to grace the upper lip of a gull; nor of a man with a black beard, and especially beautiful brunettes, expel such frightful expressions from the human face divine, and spare yourself the jeer and sinister smiles such masculine attributes elicit from the smooth, velvety faces and lips of your bright companions. An agreeable and healthy Recreation in the Afternoon.—No pleasure or more attractive recreation can be made at this season of the year, than by taking a trip to Hoboken and a walk along the shady and picturesque banks on the margin of the river.
